Message from the President

Hello all!

So I have some bittersweet news that I wanted everyone to hear. The good news is that I have found an owner with several exciting horses in need of a trainer/instructor. The bad news is that she lives in New Jersey.

After much deliberation, I have decided that this is an amazing opportunity for me in many ways since it is a 5 day a week job riding 6 of her horses. She owns her own facility both in New Jersey and in Florida, so I will still spend my winters in Florida, although for this summer at least, I will be in New Jersey. My salary includes board and a place to live, so, financially, it's a no-brainer. The job is not exclusive, so I am still available on weekends for clinics and judging horse shows.

I won't be heading out there until after the May EIDEA meeting on May 1 at Otter Creek.

The other news is that Jimmy has also been offered a full time position as the facility manager for the Global Dressage Facility (the new dressage facility in Wellington) where he is working now. Although the shows won't be happening as much through the summer, the facility is also running a riding school for local kids and will have multiple groups utilizing the facility for different events year-round. Jimmy is also quite excited about this opportunity.

I will be available via phone/text/email anytime if anyone has any additional questions. I don't have a specific ending date for this training opportunity, so it will go through the summer for sure, and possibly longer, although realistically, this is the horse industry and nothing is ever set in concrete. I am not going to sell my house here in Iowa. Anne Sushko is setting up clinics here in Iowa.

Thanks in advance for understanding.

- Anne Cizadlo

Everyone from EIDEA wishes you and Jimmy the best in your new endeavours.

Congratulations and Good Luck!

MAKING THE CONNECTION WITH CINDY ISHOY, WINDS REACH FARM, APRIL 8-9

By Jean Rude

Right there on my EIDEA Goal Sheet for 2012 was "Ride in 2-3 clinics," so it was just my luck that 5-time Olympian and World Cup rider, Cindy Ishoy was slated to be at Winds Reach on Easter weekend.

To paraphrase Jane Smiley, I'd rather ride in a clinic than eat lunch. There's something so wonderful about the formality of a clinic setting that helps me dig down deep. My ears are open, my mouth is closed and I am trying really hard. This usually leads to a moment of deeper understanding and better performance than seems possible in my day to day riding. I see riders in clinics with occasional huge smiles, and I know they're feeling one of those "A ha!" moments, too. Here's what I took away from my two semi-privates with Cindy Ishoy that are making an impact on my day to day rides since:

ACCURATE FIGURES MATTER.

Over and over during my session and those I audited, Cindy asked, "What happened to the circle?" If circles became eggs, got too small or too large, you heard about it! "Every figure correctly ridden is gymnasticizing." I got the impression that the converse is true, and that I'm not doing a horse any favors by letting it wander off the track or lose the bend -- I'm just missing an opportunity to make him better. "Every corner properly ridden is a suppling exercise." Time to get much more disciplined about my figures.

OUTSIDE HAND LOW

This technique made a difference in my ability to straighten the horse and feel a more constant outside rein connection. Cindy told riders, "I don't even want to see your outside hand." Keeping the outside low seemed to give the horse a steadier contact to move into and the results were proved out in a few exciting medium trot passes where all I needed to do was relax and a powerful lengthening was right there waiting.

EVERYTHING THROUGH SHOULDER-FORE

We warmed up both days doing trot-canter-trot and walk-canter-walk transition through shoulder-fore. It was pretty educational to note the difference between my abrupt initial transition, and how we finished up with Cindy's help and the "through shoulder-fore" technique. "I want you to really bend the horse, outside hand low and GIVE inside so he finds the balance on the outside rein. Bring his shoulders in and then ask for the transition. With leg!" For the first time, I was able to get a canter-walk transition in pretty good balance and without crashing on the forehand. I used Cindy's technique recently at a show and felt I really had something new in my toolbox!

OBEDIENCE

Cindy told us a story about a rider who let her horse always bend down and scratch his nose on his knee while schooling, who was then surprised when the horse went down center line trying to scratch his nose! She stressed the importance of daily obedience, and compared horses to children who thrive when they understand expectations and the rules are always the same. "They can do whatever they want for 23 hours a day. When you pick up the reins, you're schooling and they must be obedient and work in a disciplined way. Obedience carries to the show." As an example, Cindy said the horse must walk on, even when taking a break on a loose rein. He can't be allowed to choose his own slow pace and wander.

YOUR SHOULDERS MATCH THE HORSE'S SHOULDERS

This bit of position correction really helped me have a better balanced horse through corners. If tracking left, the horse's left shoulder would be in front of his right shoulder through the bend, so my outside (right) shoulder needs to be back. I heard "Outside shoulder back!" a lot, and am working to make this position change stick.

A thank you to Winds Reach Farm for hosting Cindy Ishoy, to Bill Coester for the ride on the wonderful Jeremiah, and to Sam Bell for shooting pics of the riders and horses.

USEF Rule Changes

All of these changes take effect immediately. The first deals with riding under a judge you've had instruction with within 30 days. The second deals with Amateur Status. The third defines length of the halt. The fourth deals with spur length in FEI Pony Rider tests. The fifth deals with scoring in Young Horse tests.

GR1304 Regulations Governing Showing Under Judges, Stewards and Technical Delegates [Chapter 13 - Competition Participants and Associated Individuals, subchapter 13-A Responsibilities] 040-12 effective immediately:

12. No rider may compete in an Equitation or Dressage class before a judge by whom he has been instructed, coached or tutored with or without pay within 30 days of the first day of the competition. The conducting of clinics or assistance in group activities such as Pony Clubs, unless private instruction is given, will not be considered as instruction, coaching or tutoring. GR1306 Amateur Status [Chapter 13 - Competition Participants and Associated Individuals, Subchapter 13-B Amateurs and Professionals] 045-12 effective 12/1/12: 3. Permitted activities by Amateur. An amateur is permitted to do the following: i. Accept remuneration for providing service in one's capacity as a: presenter or panelist at a Federation licensed officials' clinic, competition manager, competition secretary, judge, steward, technical delegate, course designer, announcer, TV commentator, veterinarian, groom, farrier, tack shop operator, breeder, or boarder, or horse transporter.

DR102- The Halt. [Chapter DR - Dressage Division, Subchapter DR -1 Dressage Governing Regulations] 049-12 effective immediately:

1. At the halt the horse should stand attentive, engaged, motionless, straight and square with the weight evenly distributed over all four legs. The neck should be raised with the poll as the highest point and the head slightly in front of the vertical. While remaining "on the bit" and maintaining a light and soft contact with the rider's hand, the horse may quietly chew the bit and should be ready to move off at the slightest indication of the rider. The halt must be shown for at least 3 seconds. The halt should be shown throughout the salute.

DR120 Dress [Chapter DR - Dressage Division, Subchapter DR-1 Dressage Governing Rules] 050-12 effective immediately:

9. . . . Only blunt metal spurs (i.e., with no rowels), no longer than 1.5 3.5 cm are permitted for FEI Pony Rider tests. This restriction also applies to warm up and training areas, as well as during competition. Offset spurs without rowels are permitted for riders having an appropriate Dispensation Certificate

DR122 Execution and Judging of Tests. [Chapter DR - Dressage Division, Subchapter DR -1 Dressage Governing Regulations] 048-12 effective immediately:

8. The scale of marks is as follows: . . . All half marks from 0.5-9.5 may also be used both for movements and collective marks, at the discretion of the judge, and scores given must be recorded with a decimal (i.e., as 6.0 instead of 6). BOD 1/23/11 Effective 12/1/11, EC 10/17/11 Effective 12/1/11 "Not executed" means that practically nothing of the required movement has been performed. In FEI Level Freestyle tests, half marks may be used for the artistic all marks. In tests for Young Horses, decimals to .1 may be used.

Winds Reach Dressage Schooling & CT Show

By Megan Ward

It was a crisp April morning but the sky was blue and Winds Reach was a bustle with the first show of the season.

I showed my younger horse, Wacation (Cruise) in an attempt to give him some 'exposure'. I have delusions that some day he will get to a new place in a relaxed manner. It's on my EIDEA 2012 Goal Sheet to take him to new places because apparently I have a death wish. Determined to have fun in the face of adversity I had requested the bridle number 911. Chris and Shana were so amused by this that they found the number 91 and added an extra 1. This was the kind of fun, laid back show both I and my 'dramatized' horses needed. We both lived. We both learned. We'll both be back for the next show!

There were many EIDEA members amongst the competitors. Deborah Galbraith was in both the Dressage and CT show. She won the EIDEA prize for best placing by a member.

Chris Africa competed in the dressage portion with a horse she has just started riding. She won the EIDEA Special Achievement Award.

Other members competing were Jane Heck, Jean Rude, Kate Kostenbader, and JoAnne Cooper.

Overall high point for dressage was Kelli Parsons (pictured upper right) riding Ellen DeCicco's dressage horse, Polaris, at Training Level, Test 2 with a score of 73.929%.

Congratulations everyone!

EIDEA Supporting Local Shows

It has been a tradition for EIDEA to support local schooling shows / mini events that our members are involved with. Please help promote, attend and or volunteer at the June 2 & 3 and September 22 & 23 Dressage and Combined Training Shows run by member, Chris Gutierrez and held at Wind's Reach (owned by member Bill Coester). Please wear EIDEA logo gear whenever and where-ever you volunteer. To volunteer contact show manager Chris Gutierrez - garysite@dybb.com or call 319-389-7395.

I would like to again thank all of you for your participation and assistance in putting together the show on April 21. It would not have happened without your help.

There were so many of you that volunteered and unfortunately I was not always present to see who helped. Thank you one and all.

Bill and I are already putting our heads together for the June 2-3 show. I believe we will have a dressage and combined training show on Saturday, followed by an event derby on Sunday. Keep that in mind and more information will follow soon.

Thank you again, Chris Gutierrez
